

University of Canberra Hospital

An IntraSpace Project

ABOUT THE PROJECT

The University of Canberra Hospital is an ACT Health public hospital for people over the age of 18 years, recovering from surgery, illness or injury, or experiencing mental illness.

It provides care for both inpatients and people receiving outpatient treatment and day services.

In July 2018, ACT Health rehabilitation, including mental health rehabilitation services from across Canberra will relocate to the University of Canberra Hospital, and doctors will start referring people.

The University of Canberra Hospital will be the largest rehabilitation centre in the ACT and surrounds, with capacity for 140 inpatient beds, 75 day places and additional outpatient services.

The hospital will bring together rehabilitation services and specialist staff from many locations across Canberra into one purpose-built location—making it easier for people to access the services they need.

New facilities

The University of Canberra Hospital will have:

- dedicated therapy spaces, including therapeutic gyms and kitchens to promote independence
- therapeutic outdoor spaces that include a rehabilitation courtyard and recreational spaces
- a hydrotherapy pool
- a Clinical Education and Research Centre shared with the University of Canberra.

ACT Health has partnered with the University of Canberra to build a hospital with a focus on rehabilitation, research and education—investing today in tomorrow's health professionals.
